Even a Democrat Got a Vote . . .

KANSAS CITY — When the initial roll call on the Republican vice-presidential nomination was completed last night, before some delegations began switching their votes, there were 1,921 votes for Sen. Robert Dole and 103 for North Carolina Sen. Jesse Helms, who was nominated and then withdrew. There were 103 abstentions on the initial vote.

But there also were vice-presidential votes for 29 other people — including Ronald Reagan, his campaign manager, a Democratic senator and a football player. Following is a list of those people and where their votes came from:

Ronald Reagan, 27: Ala. 1; Ky. 5; La. 2; Mo. 1; N.H. 2; Pa. 3; Tex. 9; Wash. 1; W.Va. 1; Wyo. 2;
